A New Series of Bulletins Begun by the Census Office.

Important Statistics Regarding Males of School, Voting, and Militin Age in Seven States and Territories - Foreign-Born Population.

sued the first of a series of bulletins giving the number of persons of school voting age, and the citizenship of forign born males twenty-one years of age and over in the States of Alabama, Arkansas, California, Colorado, and Connecticut, and the Territories of Alaska and

Practically one-eighth of the persons of school age-from five to twenty yearsin Connecticut and one-tenth of those in Arizona in 1900 were foreign born, while in Alabama and Arkansas substantially all were of foreign birth. In California 5.9 per cent, in Colorado 4.9 per cent, and in Alaska 2.5 per cent of the persons of school age were foreign born. The native white element of native parentage constitutes nearly seven-tenths of the whole number in Arkansas, more than threefifths in Colorado, more than one-half in Alabama, and not quite one-half in California. In Connecticut 45 per cent of the persons of school age are of native white of foreign parentage and 12.7 per cent are foreign white, these two elements constituting 57.7 of the whole number. Colored persons of school age in Alabama, comprising chiefly those of negro descent, constitute 46.2 per cent of all persons of school age in that State, while this element constitutes more than five-sixths of the whole number in Alaska, representing principally native Indian children. In five of the seven States and Territorics considered, the percentage of foreign born males is large, ranging from 27.9 per cent in Colorado to 41.4 per cent in California. In Alabama and Arkansas, on the other hand, practically 98 out of every 100 are native born. In none of the seven States and territories is there less than one-third of the males of voting age who are native whites of native parentage, this element comprising two-thirds of the whole number in Arkansas, more than one-half in Alaska and Colorado, and from 35 to 40 per cent in the remaining

The largest proportion of foreign white males of voting age are found in California and Connecticut, and if to this class are added the native whites of foreign parentage, the white males of voting age either of foreign birth or extraction would constitute more than one-half of all the potential voters in these two States. These two elements combined also constitute more than two-fifths of all the males of voting age in Arizona and Colorado, and nearly three-tenths of the whole number in Alaska. In California, Colorado, and Connecticut, the percentage of liliterates among males of voting age is small, but in the remaining four States and Territories the illiterates constitute from onefifth to one-third of the whole number, in Alabama 33.7 per cent, in Alasku 28.3 per cent, in Arizona 23.9 per cent, and in Arkansas 20 per cent. These large percentages are due principally to the presence among the males of voting age of a large number of liliterate persons of negro descent in Alabama and Arkansas, of illiter-Mr. and Mrs. S. In the two States first named there is also a considerable proportion of illiterate native white persons, this element forming 14.2 per cent in Alabama and in Arkansas 19.5 per cent of the total number of voters. In Arizona 30.9 per cent of the foreign white males of voting age are illiterate, and in Connecticut 15.6 per cent. In Alabama 59.7 per cent of the foreign-born males of voting age had been naturalized; in Arkansas 56.8 per cent, in Colorado 57.4 per cent, in California 50.9 per cent, in Connecticut 49.7 per cent, in Havana. The residence is a big, airy Arizona 34.8 per cent, and in Alaska 40 per cent. The alien element among this class of males of voting age in the States and Territories named is largest in Arizona, where it represents 49.4 per cent, and smallest in Arkansas, where it represents not quite 10 per cent. In California and Connecticut the aliens constitute about Mrs. Heath were in Europe the former one-third of all the foreign-born males of voting age, and in Alaska a little more hour's audience with the Pope. Consider-than one-quarter of the total number of such males. Of the aliens of voting age in Arizona, 46 per cent are illiterate, in Alaska 37 per ing that the health of his Holiness is difficult to secure an audience, Mr. Heath felt that he had been accorded a great cent, and in Connecticut more than 32 per cent. In Arizona Illiterates constitute 30.4 per cent of all foreign-born males who have taken out their first naturalization have taken out their first naturalization papers, and this territory also shows the largest percentage of filterates among naturalized males of voting age.

Leaving out the foreign born of voting age, whose citizenship the census eumerators were unable to learn—1.641 in Alabama, 2.259 in Arkansas, 25.991 in California, 7.25, in Colorado, and 14.665 in Connection—the bulletin affords the following comparison of the possible voters in the five States with the number of votes actually cast therein at the last Presidential election: of Pennsylvania, will spend the season at Bedford Springs.
